

"Sunglass Shammy"

Invented by: Donna McCormick
3555 Tempe St.
Las Vegas, NV 89103
(702) 871-9396

Patent Applied: November 2003

Claim:

What I claim as my invention is the small size, the convenience of the shammy and the fact that it can be used over & over again after it gets wet without smearing or scratching sunglasses. When involved in sporting events, the Sunglass Shammy can conveniently hook onto a jacket, life vest, etc. Chamois are normally used to dry cars. My invention has a completely different use for the chamois.